DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1 to 42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Iversen. The instant compound is generically disclosed as formula (II) on page 6 and specially identified at the bottom of the page, mk-329. These CCK antagonist are taught to be useful to prevent tolerance to the opioid analgesic and eliminate the need to increase dosages of opioid to unacceptable levels, page 7. The compound is administered at a daily dosage of 1-10mg/day orally or 1-3mg/day i.v, page 8. This teaching rendered the instant method of use prima facie obvious absent evidence of unexpected results since the two methods of administration are the same. The method of manufacturing the medication, claims 39-42, are also considered to be obvious since the resultant products are the same.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The references are cited to show the state of the art.
